An Ocean Of Sound

Sea & Music is something else, something different. It's a blend of sublime Classical music and leisurely Mediterranean travel ... a journey to relax your body, provoke thought and nourish your whole soul.

From the sun-baked bazaars of Istanbul to the sigh-inducing scenery of Athens, join us onboard Mein Schiff 1 as the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra take to the seas for their Eastern Mediterranean tour.

Travelling with a mixture of cordial, like-minded guests and passionate musicians we guarantee your trip will never be low on magic moments. You'll return rested and relaxed, with a heart full of priceless memories.

The Vienna Philharmonic in the Eastern Mediterranean

The Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra is in the lucky position to constantly perform abroad as an orchestra. On our tours we really feel how music can overcome borders and barriers.

As a consequence, an occasion such as a Sea & Music cruise is a true deepening of this experience, an event we share with an audience from all five continents.

These voyages are the best proof that interactivity exists not only in the imagination of the performer, but it's also a requirement of music lovers to witness how a piece is prepared. During the on-board public rehearsals the audience feels what interpretation means to the orchestra. The many chamber concerts, played by various ensembles from the Philharmonic, will delight and regale the guests - even on the high seas.

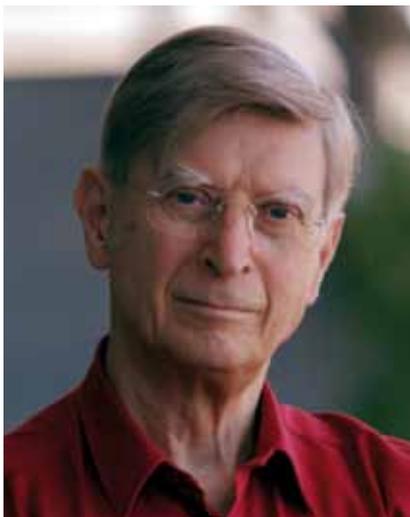

The Vienna Philharmonic is looking forward to this its third cruise. On this occasion, conductor Herbert Blomstedt and soloists Rudolf Buchbinder, Rainer Honeck and Angelika Kirchschrager will be joining us. The symphony concerts will take place in selected concert halls such as the Anadolu Auditorium in Istanbul and the Megaron concert hall in Athens. We also have one open-air concert planned for the stunning archaeological site of Ephesus.

The music programme includes works by Franz Schubert, Ludwig van Beethoven, Joseph Haydn and Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. In addition, soloist Rudolf Buchbinder will play music from both the Classic and Romantic eras. To conclude, we have Mezzo-soprano Angelika Kirchschrager performing songs by Brahms, Schumann and Schubert.

A concert tour like this has the wonderful advantage of only having to pack your suitcase once. To travel with an audience, to have the guests experience on board rehearsals - whilst at the same time enjoying the changing landscapes - make this tour a truly exciting one and is without doubt an enrichment of all our lives.

The Artists

HERBERT BLOMSTEDT

Conductor

Born in the U.S. to Swedish parents, Herbert Blomstedt began his musical education at the Royal Academy of Music in Stockholm, Sweden and in 1954 made his debut as conductor with the Stockholm Philharmonic Orchestra.

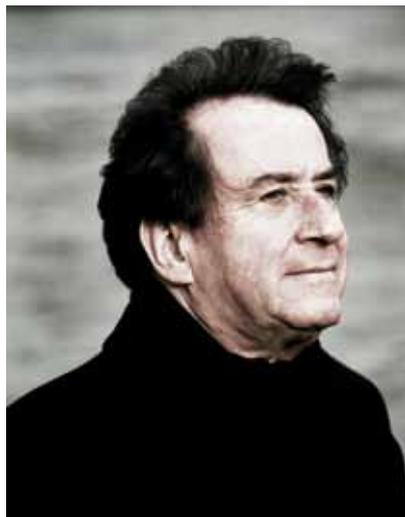

From 1975 to 1985 he was chief conductor of the Staatskapelle Dresden, an orchestra he toured the United States, Japan and over twenty European countries with.

From the mid to late 90s, Blomstedt was Musical Director of the NDR Symphony Orchestra in Hamburg. In 1998 he became Director of the Gewandhausorchester in Leipzig (a post held until 2005) and in 2003 was deservedly awarded the German Federal Cross of Merit.

As well as receiving countless honorary doctorates he has also been granted the title of Honorary Conductor of no less than four orchestras: the NHK Symphony Orchestra in Japan, the Danish National Symphony, the Swedish Radio Symphony and the Bamberg Symphony Orchestra, respectively.

In addition to these dizzying commitments, he continues guest conducting some of the world's most renowned orchestras, the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra, Orchestre de Paris, the Chicago Symphony and New York Philharmonic, to name but a few.

In 2011, a late debut saw him performing with the Vienna Philharmonic, a collaboration that continues not only with their 2012 tour, but also with concerts in Vienna in 2013. In 2012 Maestro Herbert Blomstedt will celebrate his 85th birthday.

RUDOLF BUCHBINDER

Piano

Rudolf Buchbinder began his comprehensive musical career as a chamber musician. Since then, he has gone on to perform as a soloist with the world's greatest orchestras and conductors. He has become a much-loved and popular guest at the world's major Classical music festivals, such as the Salzburg Festival.

The scale and breath of Buchbinder's repertoire is evident in the hundreds of albums he has recorded, many of which include 20th century compositions.

For his outstanding recording of Joseph Haydn's complete piano works he was bestowed the Grand Prix du disque. Buchbinder's most recent live recordings have included Brahms, Mozart and Beethoven concertos. For both Brahms concertos the Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra, conducted by Nikolaus Harnoncourt, accompanied him. By contrast, the Vienna Symphony Orchestra performed with him, as a playing conductor on the five Beethoven concertos. Finally, the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra accompanied him, again as a playing conductor, on the six Mozart concertos, at the prestigious Wiener Festwochen, in 2006.

Rudolf Buchbinder attaches great importance to meticulous research and as such owns an extensive collection of original editions of sheet music. One of the projects most close to his heart has been the interpretation of Beethoven's New Testament, the cyclic performance of all 32 piano sonatas, which he has played in over 40 cities. Following one of these mammoth renditions the newspaper Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung hailed Buchbinder as "one of today's most important and competent Beethoven performers".

RAINER HONECK

Violin

Born in Nenzing, Austria, Rainer Honeck took up the violin at the age of seven and later pursued his studies at Vienna's School of Music and Performing Arts. His affiliation with the Vienna Philharmonic began in 1978, when the orchestra awarded him a bursary from the Karl Böhm Foundation.

In 1981, he formally joined both the Vienna State Opera and the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra as first violinist, advancing to the position of concertmaster in the Opera in 1984 and to concertmaster of the Vienna Philharmonic in 1992.

While his engagements with the orchestra remains pivotal to his musical life, Honeck has also managed to carve himself a solo career, with many concert appearances in Europe, Asia and North and South America.

Rainer Honeck's extensive work as a chamber musician is splendidly documented in various radio, television and CD productions. His recordings as a concertmaster include live productions of Rimskij-Korsakow's Scheherazade with the Vienna Philharmonic and Richard Strauss' A Hero's Life under the direction of conductor Christian Thielemann.

He has further recorded Dvorak and Mendelssohn Violin Concertos with the Czech Philharmonic, in addition to Franz Schubert's Complete Works for violin and piano as well as a double CD of Mozart's Violin Concertos.

Music is a moral law.

It gives soul to the universe, wings to the mind, flight to the imagination, and charm and gaiety to life and to everything.

ANGELIKA KIRCHSCHLAGER

Mezzo-soprano

Internationally recognized as an interpreter of Strauss and Mozart, Austrian-born mezzo-soprano Angelika Kirchschrager is seen as one of the most important vocal artists, performing today. Dividing her time between recitals and opera she has recently performed in Europe, North America and the Far East.

Whilst the vast range of her voice is apparent in roles such as Pelleas et Melisande, Sophie's Choice and The Rape of Lucretia, her true repertoire stretches from Bach, Berlioz and Brahms to Mendelssohn, Weill and Wolf – from Berlioz, Dvořák and Korngold, to Ravel, Rossini, Schubert and Schumann.

In November 2009, she was made an Honorary Member of the Royal Academy of Music in London and in June 2007 was also awarded the title Kammersängerin of the Vienna State Opera by the Austrian Government.

This most elegant of singers is a frequent guest on such prestigious stages such as La Scala in Milan, the Metropolitan Opera in New York and the Royal Opera House Covent Garden, to name but a few.

Kirchschrager has also guested at the world-renowned Salzburg Festival, the Vienna State Opera, Carnegie Hall in New York and London's Wigmore Hall.

In addition to recording a variety of cd's and dvd's, Angelika Kirchschrager has won numerous awards and prizes including, in 2005, a highly prestigious Grammy.

The Eastern Mediterranean... a coastline of dazzling beauty

VALLETTA, MALTA

Friday July 6th 2012 - Embarkation day - Dep. 19.00

With its Arabic influences and its Sicilian-inspired cuisine, the island of Malta's diversity is reflected in Valletta, its capital. Here we see celestial churches, labyrinthine backstreets and glorious citadels perched high on the surrounding hills. By contrast, the island also offers the modern attractions of fine Mediterranean cuisine and lively nightlife. Wherever you go the architecture's honey-coloured stone is set poetically against the deepest of Mediterranean blues. Here, the infectious 'joie de vivre' of its people make life in Malta that little bit richer.

RELAXATION AT SEA

Saturday July 9th 2012

Sea & Music

Saturday is a day for relaxing at sea. Enjoy your first encounter with the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, as they give both a public rehearsal and an onboard chamber concert. This is a chance to really immerse yourself in the music, to meet fellow passengers and generally acclimatise to life at sea.

ISTANBUL, TURKEY

Sunday July 8th & Monday 9th 2012 - Arr. 21.00 Dep. +18.00

Straddling the Bosphorous - the narrow strait between the Black Sea and the Marmara Sea - Turkey lies physically and culturally in two continents, both Europe and Asia. What is apparent more than this meeting of East and West, though, is the surreal juxtaposition of the old and the new...the Souks competing with the fashion boutiques, for instance, or donkeys fighting for 'parking space' with gleaming new motorcycles and cars. With its historic buildings, spice markets, Ottoman mosques and ancient minarets, Istanbul provides visitors with more than enough to see during the day. But, it's at night, with its teeming streetlife, that the place really swings into gear.

Sea & Music

Sunday: Start today with an onboard chamber concert and end the evening in Istanbul. During the day there is an onboard chamber concert, in addition to an open rehearsal where you can watch Herbert Blomstedt and the orchestra preparing a piece of music.

Monday: The Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra's first matinée concert takes place in Istanbul's grand Anadolu Auditorium. Wielding the baton on this occasion is Herbert Blomstedt. Air conditioned coaches will transfer you to and from the Auditorium.

N.B. Once you've decided where you want to start your Istanbul exploration, immediately after the concert (Package 1) or after a lunch break on the ship (Package 2), please choose one of the Excursion packages.

Inclusive shore excursions:

Sunday July 8th 2012:

"Istanbul By Night" - (Excursion Package 1 & 2) . Scenic drive through, both, old town and modern Istanbul.

Duration: approx. 2 hours

Monday July 9th:

"Grand City Tour With Lunch" - (Excursion Package 1). Experience Istanbul's highlights such as the Blue Mosque, Topkapi Palace and Big Bazaar after lunch in the city.

Duration: approx. 6 hours

Or

"Highlights of Istanbul" - (Excursion Package 2). Enjoy an afternoon visit to Topkapi Palace and Grand Bazaar, after a lunch on board. Duration: approx. 3 hours

KUŞADASI (EPHESUS), TURKEY

Tuesday July 10th 2012 - Arr. 17.00 Dep. +01.00

The port of Kuşadası, meaning 'island of birds,' is the gateway to the archaeological site of Ephesus. The town's old quarter is a picturesque maze of winding backstreets and houses adorned with flowers and birdcages. Originally a Greek city (later, Roman) Ephesus is located just 19 km from the port of Kuşadası. It is famed for the ruins of the Temple of Artemis which, at the time, was considered one of the Seven Wonders of the World. In the 1st century BC, Ephesus had a population of more than 250,000, making it the second largest city in the world.

Sea & Music

After a chamber music matinée, on board, relax by the pool under the warm Mediterranean sun. Later in the day a scenic drive will take you to explore Ephesus, one of the most important archaeological sights in the world. Following your tour around Ephesus, the Vienna Philharmonic orchestra will perform a unique open-air concert in the heart of this ancient site.

Inclusive shore excursions:

"Ephesus" - (Excursion Package 1 & 2) Wonders of the Ancient World. During your walk in Ephesus you will explore the Odeon, the Great Theatre, Trajan's Fountain, and the Celsus Library. As a grand finale, you will enjoy a magical open-air concert in this fabulous ancient city. Duration: approx. 5 hours

PIRAEUS, (ATHENS) GREECE

Wednesday 11th July 2012 - Arr. 14.00 - Dep. +01.30

Piraeus has been the main port of Athens since 482 BC. Presently, the harbour is a busy gateway with ferries, ships and glamorous yachts heading for the Greek islands, or cities along the Mediterranean coast. If you visit Athens in search of tranquility and great gleaming temples, prepare to be amazed as the city has recently morphed into a vibrant metropolis. But even the brutality of modernism fails to diminish the beauty of a place like Athens. There are still such ancient treasures as the 2,500 year old Parthenon for you to explore.

Travel Discover Experience Enjoy

The final symphony concert of this tour takes place, in the evening, in the 2,000 seater Megaron concert hall in Athens. Herbert Blomstedt will lead the orchestra for this occasion. Air conditioned coaches will transfer you to and from the venue.
